Speaker Rayburn Shows Respect For Kennedy

By Our Washington Staff

Administration officials must think that "Big Brother's" eye is constantly upon them. Bobby Kennedy is not only attorney-general, but he is currently probing the Central Intelligence Agency. Brother Ted is working in the U.S. attorney's office in Boston. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is touring the Far East, but right at hand to give him advice and presumably to bring back a report to the President, are Kennedy's sister, Jean, and her husband, Stephen Smith. So far, brother-in-law Peter Lawford hasn't joined the act, but with his experience in, make-believe, maybe he'll turn up as the new CIA head.
